When any rate is levied as aforesaid then such municipality shall not be liable except as provided in section 36 for any other rates for high school purposes, and all money so collected shall be paid to the county treasurer on or before the 15th of December in each year. Preamble.

The free exercise of religious profession, etc., guaranteed.

The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship without discrimination or preference, provided the same be not made an excuse for acts of licentiousness, or a justification of practices inconsistent with the peace and safety of the Province, is by the constitution and laws of this Province assured to all Her Majesty's subjects within the same. R. S. O. 1887, c. 236, s. 1.

R. S. O. 1887, c. 236, s. 2.

Rectories not to be affected by this Act.

3. HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

When religious societies desire to take conveyances for site of a church, etc., conveyance may be made to trustees.

Powers of trustees.

1.—(1) Where any religious society or congregation of Christians in Ontario desires to take a conveyance of land for the site of a church, chapel, meeting-house, burial-ground, residence for a minister, book-store, printing or publishing-office, or for any other religious or congregational purpose whatever, such society or congregation may appoint trustees, to whom, and their successors, to be appointed in such manner as may be specified in the deed of conveyance, the land requisite for all or any of the purposes aforesaid may be conveyed; and such trustees and their successors in perpetual succession, by the name expressed in the deed, may take, hold and possess the land, and maintain and defend actions for the protection thereof, and of their property therein. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 1.

Description of trustees in conveyances

(2) The deed of conveyance made to the trustees may be made to such trustees under a collective name, and it shall not be necessary to set out the individual names of the trustees in such deeds as parties thereto or as grantees therein, provided such names be set out or appear by recital or otherwise in the said deed. This section shall apply to conveyances heretofore made as well as to those hereafter to be made to such trustees. 52 V. c. 54, s. 1.

Change of name under which lands have been held.

(3) In case the name by which any such religious society or congregation or trustees therefor, have heretofore held or hereafter hold lands under and pursuant to the powers of this said Act, has been or shall be changed by such religious society or congregation by by-law or resolution, such change of name shall not prejudice or affect the title of the society or congregation or their trustees to the said lands. 52 V. c. 54, s. 2.

Number of trustees may be varied.

2. Any congregation or society of Christians entitled to the benefit of any lands held under the provisions of this Act, or otherwise, may from time to time, by a resolution passed by a two-thirds vote of the persons entitled to vote in respect of the appointment of trustees, increase or decrease the number of trustees by the deed or otherwise to be appointed for the purpose of holding such lands; or may in like manner fix the number of trustees in case the deed makes no provision as to their number. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 2.

Notice of meeting required.

3. No such resolution shall be passed unless the said meeting has been duly notified in the same manner as a meeting for the election of trustees for such lands is required to be notified, or unless notice has been given at the time of such notification that a proposal for increasing (or decreasing or determining, as the case may be) the number of the trustees, will be considered at the meeting. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 3.

Time when variation to take effect.

4. In case the resolution passed provides for the appointment of more trustees than are authorized by the deed, or more than there are in fact if the number is not limited by the deed, the same shall take effect forthwith; and the additional trustees to be appointed may be elected at the meeting at which the resolution is passed or at a subsequent meeting: if the resolution provides for a smaller number of trustees than the deed provides for, then the resolution shall not take effect until vacancies occur, by death or otherwise, reducing the number of trustees to the number provided for by the resolution; and no other trustees shall be appointed under the authority of this Act until the number of trustees has been reduced as aforesaid below the number authorized by the resolution. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 4.

Record of proceedings.

5. A record of the proceedings of the meeting shall be made out in writing, and entered and transcribed in the minute book or other official register of the acts and proceedings of the congregation or society, and shall be signed by the chairman and secretary thereof, and shall thereafter be deposited of record among the archives of the congregation or society, and a copy of such record, certified to be a true copy by the chairman or secretary, on oath (or affirmation) before a Justice of the Peace, may be recorded in the registry office of the registry division in which the property is situate. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 5.

Copy to be registered.

Certified copy evidence.

6. A copy of such proceedings taken from the minute book or other official register of the congregation, and certified by the clerk or custodian of the records of the congregation, or a copy certified by the registrar of the registry division wherein the same has been registered under the preceding section, shall be prima facie evidence of the contents thereof. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 6.

Special Acts not affected by preceding provisions.

7. The provisions contained in the preceding five sections of this Act shall not be construed so as in any way to repeal, alter, affect, or vary any of the provisions in any special Act contained with reference to any religious body or congregation of Christians in this Province. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 7.

Mortgages allowed in certain cases.

8.—(1) Where a debt has heretofore been or is hereafter contracted for the building, repairing, extending or improving of a church, meeting-house, chapel, book-store, printing-office or other building, on land held by trustees for the benefit of any religious society in Ontario, or for the purchase of the land on which the same has been or is intended to be erected, the trustees, or a majority of them, may from time to time secure the debt or any part thereof by a mortgage upon the land, church, meeting-house, chapel, book-store, printing-office or other building; or may borrow money to pay the debt or part thereof, and may secure the repayment of the loan and interest by a like mortgage upon such terms as may be agreed upon.

(2) The authority conferred by this section to mortgage land as security for a debt contracted for the building, repairing, extending or improving of a church, meeting-house, chapel, book-store, printing-office or other building on land held for the benefit of the society, shall extend to any land so held, although the church, or other building, in respect of which the debt is contracted, is not erected on the said land. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 8.

Power to join in mortgage of lands held under separate conveyances.

9. In the case of separate but contiguous parcels of land held under separate conveyances by trustees for the same religious society or congregation under this Act, if such parcels of land be so used, occupied, or built upon as to become indivisible except by the removal, alteration, or destruction, in whole or in part, of such user, occupation or building, the trustees of such parcels may join in any mortgage, authorized by section 8 of this Act. 52 V. c. 54, s. 3.

Power to lease.

10. The grantees in trust named in any letters patent from the Crown, or the survivors or survivor of them, or the trustees for the time being appointed in manner prescribed in the letters patent, whereby lands are granted for the use of a congregation or religious body, and any other trustees for the time being entitled by law to hold lands in trust for the use of a congregation or religious body, may lease, for any term not exceeding twenty-one years, lands so held by them for the use of a congregation or religious body, at such rents and upon such terms as the trustees or a majority of them deem reasonable. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 9.

Power to agree in leases to renew and pay for improvements by lessee.

11. In such lease the trustees may covenant or agree for the renewal thereof at the expiration of any or every term of years, for a further term of twenty-one years or a less period, at such rent and on such terms as may then, by the trustees for the time being, be agreed upon with the lessee, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns, or may consent or agree for the payment to the lessee, his executors, administrators or assigns, of the value of any buildings or other improvements which may at the expiration of any term be on the demised premises; and the mode of ascertaining the amount of such rents or the value of such improvements may also be specified in the original lease. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 10.

Consent of cestuis que trustent requisite before leasing—consent, how signified.

12. The trustees shall not so lease without the consent of the congregation or religious body for whose use they hold the land in trust, and such consent shall be signified by the votes of a majority of the members present at a meeting of the congregation or body, duly called for the purpose; nor shall the trustees lease any land which, at the time of making the lease, is necessary for the purpose of erecting a church or place of worship or other building thereon, or for a burial ground for the congregation for whose use the land is held. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 11.

Remedies of trustees for rent in arrear

13. The trustees for the time being entitled by law to hold land in trust for a congregation or religious body, may, in their own names, or by any name by which they hold the land, sue or distrain for rent in arrear, and may take all such means for the recovery thereof as landlords in other cases are entitled to take. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 12.

Sales by trustees.

14.—(1) Where land held by trustees for the use of a congregation or religious body becomes unnecessary to be retained for such use, and it is deemed advantageous to sell the land, the trustees for the time being may give public notice of an intended sale specifying the premises to be sold and the time and terms of sale; and after publication of the notice for four successive weeks in a weekly paper published in or near the place where the lands are situated, they may sell the land at public auction according to the notice; but the trustees shall not be obliged to complete or carry a sale into effect, if in their judgment an adequate price is not offered for the land; but this provision shall not affect or vary any special powers or trusts for sale contained in any deed or instrument, and inconsistent herewith.

Special powers not affected.

Private sales.

(2) The trustees may thereafter sell the land either by public or private sale; but a less sum shall not be accepted at private sale than was offered at public sale. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 13.

Before conveyance cestuis qui trustent to be notified, and sanction obtained.

15.—(1) Before any conveyance is executed in pursuance of a public or private sale, the congregation or religious body for whose use the lands are held shall be duly notified thereof, and its assent obtained to the execution of the said deed, and such assent shall be signified by the votes of a majority of the members present at a meeting of the congregation or body duly called for the purpose.

Evidence of.

(2) Such assent shall be held in favour of the grantee and his assigns to be conclusively testified by the execution of the deed by the chairman at such meeting, or by the official head of such religious body, or by some person appointed at such meeting for the purpose; and the person assuming to execute the deed as chairman, official head or appointee, shall be presumed to be such chairman, official head or appointee, as the case may be.

When County Judge may approve of deed.

(3) Instead of such assent of the congregation or religious body aforesaid, it shall be sufficient for the validity of any such conveyance, that the sale be sanctioned and the deed approved of by the Judge of the County Court of the county in which the land sold is situate. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 14.

Power to convene public meeting, and determine how successors to trustees are to be appointed, or to appoint trustees.

16. It shall be lawful for any congregation or society of Christians of any denomination, on whose behalf lands in this Province are now, have been, or hereafter may be held by a trustee or trustees, without the manner of appointing successors being set forth in the grant, conveyance, will or devise of such lands, or who are or may be entitled to any lands without being a body corporate, at any time hereafter to assemble in a public meeting duly convened by notice in writing, signed by at least five members of such congregation or society, and affixed to the door of their place of worship, at least eight days previous to the day appointed for holding such meeting; and at such meeting, by the votes of a majority of the members of such congregation or society then and there present, to determine in what manner the successors to such trustee or trustees shall be appointed out of the members of the religious denomination on whose behalf such lands were originally granted, conveyed or conceded, or to appoint a trustee or trustees of any lands to which the said congregation or society is entitled, and their successors in the trust. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 15.

17.—(1) A record of the proceedings of the meeting shall be made out in writing, and entered and transcribed in the minute book or other official register of the acts and proceedings of the congregation or society, and shall be signed by the chairman and secretary thereof, and shall thereafter be deposited of record among the archives of the congregation or society; and a copy of such record, certified to be a true copy by the chair-

Copy as evidence.

(2) A copy of the proceedings taken from the minute book or other official register of the congregation, and certified by the clerk or custodian of the records of the congregation, or a copy certified by the registrar of the registry division wherein the same has been registered, according to this section, shall be prima facie evidence of the contents thereof. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 16.

The determination at the meeting to have the effect of a clause in the grant.

18. Such determination shall, in every such case, have the same effect as a clause in the grant, concession or conveyance of the lands to which it relates, setting forth the manner of appointing successors to the trustee or trustees named, would have; and any lands to which any religious congregation or society, not being incorporated, is entitled, shall from time to time vest in and be held by the trustee or trustees to be appointed as hereinbefore mentioned, and their successors in the trust, immediately upon the registration of the proceedings in the last preceding section mentioned, and without any or further conveyance or instrument whatsoever. The case of two societies desirous to build a house of worship.

19. Where members or adherents in any locality of two or more religious societies desire to build a house for public worship, it shall be lawful for each of the societies respectively to appoint from time to time one trustee in the manner and form prescribed in this Act, and the trustees of the religious bodies so united shall have the like powers as are conferred on trustees under this Act, and no others; and as to any act, deed or thing to be done or made by trustees under this Act which requires the sanction or assent of the congregation or religious body, the trustees under this section shall obtain the sanction or assent of each and every of the congregations or religious bodies so united, to be ascertained and signified in the manner hereinbefore mentioned. R. S. O. 1887, c. 237, s. 18.

20.—(1) All deeds of conveyance executed before the 29th day of March, 1873, for any of the uses, interests or purposes enumerated therein, if the same were registered before the 30th of March, 1874, shall be as valid and effectual, as if registered within twelve months after the execution thereof respectively, except in so far as the same may be affected by the prior registration of other deeds or instruments relating to the same lands respectively.

Proviso as to certain cases of adverse right.

(2) But in all cases where any such religious bodies had not erected any buildings or made improvements, and any person claiming to hold or to be entitled to any real estate or property included in any such deed on account of the omission to register the same, had, in virtue of such claim, taken possession of such real estate before the said 29th day of March, 1873, and also in all cases where the persons claiming to hold or to be entitled to such real property, on account of such omission as aforesaid, had actually sold or departed with, or had actually contracted to sell or depart with such real estate before the said date, the provisions of this section shall not extend to render invalid any right or title to such estate, but such right or title shall be taken and adjudged to be as if this Act had not been passed. MAINTENANCE OF LUNATICS.

42. Where a lunatic sent to any asylum is under the age of twenty-one years, and has a father or mother able to pay for his maintenance, or a guardian or committee, it shall be the duty of the bursar and medical superintendent to send a copy of the certificate mentioned in sections 7 to 9, or of the order of the Lieutenant-Governor (as the case may be), attested under their hands, to the father or mother, guardian or committee (as the case may be) of the lunatic, to which copy the said medical superintendent and bursar shall subscribe a certificate of the admission of the lunatic, and of the amount which will become due for him, each quarter, to the asylum, by the regulations of the asylum made in that behalf. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 43. Liability for maintenance of lunatic.

Order for payment for maintenance.

45. In case of refusal or neglect to pay the same, the said bursar may apply to the County Judge of the county in which the father or mother, guardian or committee, resides, upon affidavit, and if the Judge, on the return of a rule which he shall make upon the proper party, to shew cause, is satisfied that the father or mother of the lunatic is able to pay for his maintenance as aforesaid, or that the guardian or committee is able to pay for the same out of property in his possession belonging to the lunatic, the bursar shall be entitled to an order for the payment of the amount then due and the costs, and a writ of execution may issue thereon in like manner as upon a judgment of the said Court for such amount. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 45.

46. The Judge, after hearing the parties and their witnesses under oath, either orally or in writing by affidavit, may make the order herein referred to, or if he thinks fit, may direct an issue to be made up and tried before a jury previous to making such order. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 46.

Maintenance, liability for.

47. Any person who is confined in any asylum for the insane, and who has at the time that he is placed in confinement, or who subsequently thereto, comes into the possession of property, shall be liable for his maintenance while in such asylum; and any person whose wife is confined in any asylum for the insane shall be liable for her maintenance while confined therein; and the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities may, by his name of office, recover the amounts owing in respect of such maintenance; but it shall not be the duty of the Inspector to enforce payment in accordance with such liability, unless upon inquiry, regard being had to the claims of persons having a moral or legal right to maintenance out of the estate of such insane person, the Inspector considers that the claim for maintenance ought to be collected. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 47.

Maintenance of married woman, liability of husband.

When property of a lunatic may be taken possession of to pay for maintenance.

48. If a lunatic, upon or at any time after his admission into any asylum, possesses or becomes possessed of or entitled to any real or personal property whereby the expenses of his maintenance in the asylum or any part thereof can be paid, and has no guardian or committee lawfully appointed to take the care or management of the same for the benefit of the lunatic, then if any sum due for the maintenance of the lunatic in the asylum is not paid on demand, or there is no one of whom it can be demanded, and such property, in the opinion of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, is more than sufficient or is not required to maintain the family (if any) of the lunatic, the Inspector may take possession of such property, or so much thereof as he thinks necessary to pay or to secure the payment of the sum due or to become due for the support and maintenance of the lunatic in the asylum, and he shall have full power over and be competent to manage and appropriate, take or recover possession of, lease, mortgage, sell and convey all or any part of such property in the name of the lunatic, or as his committee under this Act, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as the lunatic could or might if of full age and of sound and disposing mind; and notwithstanding the lunatic may have ceased to be an inmate of the asylum, or may have recovered or died, the Inspector may complete any lease, mortgage, sale or conveyance in respect of which proceedings have been commenced while the lunatic was confined in the asylum; but no such lease, mortgage, sale or conveyance, shall take place without the concurrence of the Attorney-General of Ontario. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 48.

Inspector may exercise powers conferred by s. 48, where he deems expedient.

49. The Inspector may exercise the powers by the next preceding section conferred upon him if he thinks it expedient so to do, notwithstanding the property of the insane person is not more than sufficient to maintain the family of the lunatic and notwithstanding by reason thereof it is not the intention of the Government to require payment for the maintenance of the lunatic. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 49.

Payment by Inspector to family of insane person may be authorized.

50. Where any moneys or other property belonging to the estate of an insane person [illegible] received by the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, as the statutory committee of such insane person, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council does not think it fitting on account of the necessities of the family of such insane person to require from the estate of such insane person payment of the amount payable for maintenance, or which, except for the abatement made by such order, would afterwards become payable, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may by order authorize the Inspector to pay over to any member or members of the family of such insane person, or other person or persons dependent upon him, such amount or amounts as it may not be considered proper to claim in respect of his maintenance, and the Inspector, as such committee, in respect of every amount so paid, shall be as fully discharged as if he had paid the same for the maintenance of the said insane person in the asylum in which he is or has been confined. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 50.

Conveyances by insane persons void as against Inspector, unless for value and without notice.

51. Any gift, grant, alienation, conveyance or transfer of any real or personal property made by any person after having been insane shall be held to be fraudulent and void, as against the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, unless the same is made for full and valuable consideration actually paid, or sufficiently secured to such person, or unless the purchaser had no notice of the insanity. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 51.

Inspector may deal with property, though nothing due for maintenance.

52. If the Inspector considers it necessary, in order to secure the payment of the maintenance of the lunatic, or for the interest of the estate of the said lunatic so to do, he may exercise his powers in section 48 given, or any of them, although no sum is overdue for such maintenance. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 52.

Lunatics of whom the Inspector is the committee.

53.—(1) The Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities shall ex officio, and by his name of office, be the committee of every lunatic who has no other committee, and who is detained in any public asylum referred to in sections 2 and 3 of this Act, and whether the lunatic is detained under an order from the Lieutenant-Governor or otherwise.

High Court may appoint another committee.

(2) The High Court may at any time appoint a committee of any such lunatic if such Court considers it expedient so to do, and upon such committee being appointed the Inspector shall, while such other committee exercises such office, cease to be the committee of the lunatic, but the Inspector upon delivering up the lunatic's estate shall retain so much thereof as may be required to pay any sums then due for maintenance. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 53.

When acts of the Inspector valid as against the committee appointed by the Court.

54. Notwithstanding another committee may have been appointed by the High Court, every act of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, as the committee of a lunatic or other insane person, shall be valid and binding upon the estate of such lunatic or other insane person, if done previously to a copy of the order appointing another committee, together with a notice of the persons who have been approved by the Court, as the sureties of such committee, being served upon the Inspector. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 54.

Proceedings against persons confined in public asylums.

55. In case any action or other proceeding is brought against a person confined as insane in a public asylum for the insane, it shall not be sufficient in order to bind the estate of such insane person, or to make the proceedings otherwise valid, to serve any writ, process, paper or other document upon the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, although the Inspector is named therein as committee, but the same proceedings shall and may be taken for the appointment of some person or persons to protect the interest of the insane person aforesaid in the action or other proceeding as would be requisite or might be taken if the said Inspector was not the committee of the lunatic under this Act. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 55.

Proceedings by Inspector.

56. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to make it the duty of the Inspector to institute proceedings on behalf of an insane person confined in any public asylum, or to intervene in respect of his estate, but the Inspector may institute such proceedings and otherwise intervene in respect of the estate of an insane person confined as aforesaid, who has no other committee of his estate, wherever the Inspector considers it expedient in the interest of the estate of the insane person, or necessary in order to secure in the manner least burdensome to the estate of the insane person, moneys due or to become due for his maintenance in an asylum. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 56.

Powers of Inspector as to estate of deceased in case he is the committee at time of death.

57. In case at the time of the death of an insane person the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities is the committee of such insane person, the said Inspector shall, until probate of the will or letters of administration of the estate of the insane person is granted to some other person or persons, and the grant notified to the Inspector in writing, continue to have, and may, if he considers it requisite so to do, exercise by his name of office aforesaid the same powers in respect of the real and personal estate of the deceased as an executor and devisee would have in respect of the estate of his testator, in case the same were bequeathed and devised to him in trust for the payment of debts and the distribution of the residue. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 57.

Inspector to render accounts.

58. The Inspector shall be liable to render an account as to the manner in which he has managed the property and effects of the lunatic, in the same way and subject to the same responsibilities as any trustee, guardian or committee duly appointed for a similar purpose may be called upon to account, but he shall only be liable for wilful misconduct. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 58.

Disputes as to property, how settled.

59. In all cases mentioned in the preceding eleven sections if doubt or opposition arises as to the right of property, it shall be lawful for the Inspector or the person claiming the property to apply to the County Judge of the county in which the property is, to cause an inquisition to be held before such County Judge, and to try and determine, either by himself, or by a jury when required by either party but not otherwise, the right of property, which such Judge shall accordingly do. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 59.

Costs of Inspector a first charge on estate.

60. The costs, charges and expenses which the Inspector may incur in respect of the estate of an insane person shall be the first charge upon any moneys coming into the hands of the Inspector and belonging to such estate. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 60.

Moneys in Court may be paid to Inspector for maintenance.

61. The High Court shall, upon any application made therefor by the Inspector, direct to be paid to the Inspector from time to time, out of any funds or moneys in Court belonging to the lunatic, the amount payable in respect to charges for maintenance of the lunatic. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 61.

Inspector may make special order as to comfort of lunatic.

62. In case the insanity of any lunatic confined in any of the asylums is of such a nature, and he is possessed of such property, real or personal, as would in the opinion of the medical superintendent justify the supply to the lunatic of greater comfort and attention than are supplied under the ordinary regulations of the asylum, it shall be lawful for the Inspector to make any specific regulation in respect thereto as he may deem fitting. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 62.

PROVISIONS RESPECTING THE PROPERTY OF INSANE PERSONS IN GAOLS.

When Inspector to be committee of person certified as insane under s. 33.

63. The Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities shall, ex officio, and by his name of office, be the committee of the estate of every person certified in the manner required by section 33 to be insane, who is detained in any gaol or other prison which is under the authority of the Government of this Province, if such person has no other committee lawfully appointed, whether such person has been committed to gaol under this Act, or has been committed for safe custody, or in default of sureties to keep the peace, or is imprisoned upon conviction for any offence, or otherwise howsoever. R. S. O. 1887, c 245, s. 63.

Authority of Inspector over property.

64. (1) The Inspector shall have the same authority and power to take or recover possession of, lease, mortgage, sell and convey any property of any insane person of whom he is committee under the preceding section as he has with respect to the property of lunatics of whom he is committee under the other provisions of this Act, and he may, notwithstanding such insane person may have been discharged from gaol, or may have recovered or died, complete any lease, mortgage, sale or conveyance in respect of which proceedings have been commenced while such insane person was confined in gaol.

(2) No such lease, mortgage, sale or conveyance shall take place without the concurrence of the Attorney-General of Ontario. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 64.

Application of ss. 54 to 61.

65. Sections 54 to 61, inclusive, shall apply to the Inspector in his dealings with any such estate referred to in the next preceding two sections and as committee thereof. R. S. O. 1887, c. 245, s. 65.

Such inebriate may be detained in the asylum for a period of one year, and no longer; and it shall be a condition of his admission to the asylum that he shall remain therein such length of time, not exceeding one year, as, in the opinion of the superintendent, is required to effect a permanent cure of his inebriety; and before admission is awarded he shall sign a pledge agreeing and consenting to such specified condition, and to faithfully conform himself to all the rules and regulations of the asylum while an inmate of the same. R. S. O. 1887, c. 246, s. 98. Time of detention in hospital. Terms of admission.

6. In calculating the amount of aid so to be given under this Act to any institution as aforesaid, the day of departure of any patient or person from such institution shall not be counted or reckoned. R. S. O. 1887, c. 248, s. 5. How amount to be calculated.

(2) The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may exempt from the provisions of this section the institutions named, or by Order in Council directed to be taken as named, in Schedules B and C of this Act, or either of such Schedules, so that such institutions may receive the maximum aid payable under this Act and so that the provisions of this section may apply only to the institutions named, or by Order in Council directed to be taken as named, in the other Schedule or Schedules of this Act, as the case may be. 58 V. c. 60, s. 3 (2). Exemption of certain institutions from provisions of section.

Case of a residue of appropriation.

10. If there is a residue of the moneys so appropriated, because of the same being more than sufficient to pay the sums payable to the said institution as aforesaid, then every of the institutions named in the Schedules, which may not be entitled to receive under the foregoing provisions the sum set opposite to its name in the Schedules, that being the sum heretofore granted thereto, shall receive out of the residue such an amount by way of supplementary aid as will make the total aid under this Act received by the institution equal to the sum so set opposite its name, if the residue is sufficient for that purpose, or if insufficient, then such proportion thereof as the residue will permit of. R. S. O. 1887, c. 248, s. 8.

NOTE AS TO STATUTE REVISIONS IN THE PROVINCES OF UPPER CANADA, CANADA, AND ONTARIO.

The history of the Statute Law applicable to the territory now comprised in the Province of Ontario, dates from 1791.

After the Treaty of Paris, 1763, by which the French possessions in North America were ceded to Great Britain, a Royal Proclamation was issued on the 7th October, 1763, introducing the law of England both civil and criminal, into the whole of the ceded territory, and forming a portion of it, lying towards the East, into the Province of Quebec. The Governor of the new colony received power and direction "so soon as the state and circumstances of the colony would admit thereof, to summon and call a General Assembly," but until this was done, the Governor and Council were invested with "authority to make such rules and regulations as should appear to be necessary for the peace, order and good government of the Province." In 1774, the Quebec Act, 14 Geo. iii. c. 83, was passed, by which French law was re-introduced in civil matters, and the limits of the Province of Quebec were enlarged, so as to include the whole of the territory afterwards formed into Upper Canada. The Quebec Act produced dissatisfaction, especially among the British colonists, and in 1791, the Imperial Act, 31 Geo. iii. c. 31, was passed, by which the Province of Quebec as it then existed, was divided into the two Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada; the powers of legislation by the Governor in Council were taken away; and a Legislature was granted to each Province, consisting of the Governor, a Legislative Council, and a Legislative Assembly. The first Parliament of Upper Canada met at Newark, now Niagara, on 18th September, 1792.

1. The first revision of the Statutes in the new Province of Upper Canada was made in 1818. It consisted merely of a collection of the Acts of the Province of Upper Canada in force at that date, together with such Acts of the Imperial Parliament and Ordinances of the former Province of Quebec as effected Upper Canada.

2. In 1831, a collection of the Statutes of Upper Canada, in force at that date, was published by Messrs. Hugh C. Thomson and James Macfarlane, which, though a private enterprise, long supplied the place of a revision by authority.

3. In 1840, was passed the Imperial Act 3 & 4 V. c. 35, to re-unite the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada; and the Union took effect by proclamation on the 10th February, 1841. A revision was soon after begun of the Statutes of Upper Canada in force at the date of the Union. A commission for the purpose, dated 25th July, 1840, was issued to the Hon. John Beverley Robinson, the Hon. James B. Macaulay, the Hon. William Henry Draper and John Hillyard Cameron Esq., and directed the Commissioners "diligently and carefully to examine and revise the "several statutes from time to time passed and enacted by the Parliament "of Upper Canada, and then in force and effect; and to make such report "upon the premises as in their opinion should be most for the interest, "welfare and good government of the Province."

The result of the labours of the Commission was embodied in two volumes, the first containing Public Acts, and the second, Local and Private Acts. The report to the Governor-General; in which the Commissioners announced the completion of the work, is dated 8th March, 1843, and was printed as a preface to the first volume.

In this, as in former revisions, no consolidation strictly speaking of the Statutes was attempted. The various Acts in force were printed as they had been passed, omitting only such portions as had expired or had been repealed, with notes stating the reasons for ommissions, and giving the provisions, if any, which the Legislature had substituted for repealed clauses; errors in the text were left uncorrected, except by way of a note directing attention to them; and the revision did not receive authority by legislative adoption, but was nevertheless, by general use, practically substituted for the preceding volumes of Statutes.

4. A revision of the Acts and Ordinances in force in Lower Canada at the date of the Union of Upper and Lower Canada was begun in 1842, and completed in 1845, by a Commission composed of Messrs. A. Buchanan, H. Heney and G. W. Wicksteed. The Commissioners made two reports, which, as well as a prefatory notice, was printed with the volume of Revised Statutes compiled by them.

5. In 1856 was begun the first consolidation, properly so called, of the Statute Law.

Two commissions were then issued, one on the 7th February, 1856, appointing Messrs. John Hillyard Cameron, Joseph C. Morrison, Adam Wilson, Skeffington Connor, Oliver Mowat, and David B. Read, to examine, revise, consolidate and classify the Public General Statutes affecting Upper Canada only: and a second, dated 28th March, 1856, appointing Messrs. A. Polette, Gustavus W. Wicksteed, Andrew Stuart, T. J. J. Loranger, Robert Mackay, and George de Boucherville, to examine, revise, consolidate and classify the Public General Statutes applying exclusively to Lower Canada: and each Commission directed the Commissioners therein named, jointly with the members of the other Commission, to examine, revise, consolidate and classify the Public General Statutes which applied equally to both sections of the Province.

Subsequently the Messrs. Cameron and Morrison resigned, and in their stead respectively the Hon. J. B. Macaulay and S. H. Strong, Esq., were appointed. Afterwards Dr. Connor, and Mr. Mowat also resigned, preparatory to their becoming candidates for election as members of the Legislative Assembly. The Commissioners were in a later stage of the work, and especially during its final revision, assisted by His Honour Judge Gowan, County Court Judge of the County of Simcoe.

The first report of the Commission was made on the 19th April, 1858, and drafts of the Consolidated Statutes for Upper Canada and the Consolidated Statutes of Canada were in 1859 submitted to the Governor-

General, accompanied respectively by a report, dated January, 1859, by Sir J. B. Macaulay, the Chairman of the Upper Canada Commission, and a joint report dated 3rd March, 1859, by Sir J. B. Macaulay and Mr. Wicksteed, the acting Commissioner of the Commission for Lower Canada. (See Sess. Papers, 1859, No. 9.)

At the Session of 1859 these two volumes were laid before the Legislative Assembly, and Acts were passed to provide for their coming into force by proclamation.

Pursuant to the provisions of the last mentioned Acts, the enacments of the then Session were incorporated with the consolidation: and the two volumes were by proclamation declared to come into force upon the 5th December, 1859.

On 1st July, 1867, by Proclamation issued under the Imperial Act, 30 & 31 V. c. 3, the Province of Canada was, with the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, formed into the present Dominion of Canada. By that Act known as "The British North America Act, 1867," the two divisions of the Province of Canada were once more constituted separate Provinces, Upper Canada being called the Province of Ontario, and Lower Canada the Province of Quebec, and the power of legislation was divided between the Parliament of the Dominion and the Legislatures of the Provinces in manner defined by the Act,

6. "The Revised Statutes of Ontario" were prepared by a Commission appointed 24th July, 1874, composed in the first instance of the late Hon. William Henry Draper, Chief Justice of Appeal, the Hon. Samuel Henry Strong, Hon. George William Burton, and Hon. Christopher Salmon Patterson, Justices of Appeal, the Hon. Attorney-General Mowat, and Messrs. Thomas Langton, Charles R. W. Biggar and Rupert Etherege Kingsford, Barristers-at-Law. The Hon. Thomas Moss upon his appointment as Justice of Appeal, the Hon. Samuel Hume Blake, Vice-Chancellor, and His Honour Judge Gowan, County Court Judge of the County of Simcoe, were subsequently added to the Commission.

The work of the Commission was three-fold:

First. To examine, revise, consolidate and classify such of the Public General Statutes, passed by the Parliament of the Province of Canada and applying to Ontario as were within the legislative authority of the Legislature of Ontario.

Secondly. To examine and arrange in the manner most convenient for reference such of the Public General Statutes passed by the Parliament of the Province of Canada and applying to Ontario as were not within the legislative authority of the Legislature of Ontario; and also the Statutes passed by the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada and affecting Ontario;

Thirdly. To examine and arrange in the manner most convenient for reference the Statutes of the Imperial Parliament, printed with the Consolidated Statutes of Canada in 1859, as well as all Statutes since passed by the Imperial Parliament.

This Commission made three reports, dated respectively 12th December, 1874, 11th December, 1875, and 30th December, 1876. The first report was accompanied by tables shewing the consolidation in outline. The second report announced the completion of the collection of the Imperial Acts, and contained suggestions for legislation to remove discrepancies discovered in the course of the work, and otherwise to facilitate consolidation. Specimens of the work done were also submitted with this report. With the third report was submitted a draft of the Revised Statutes, which was laid before the Legislature at its Session in 1877.

A volume of 633 pages, being a portion of the collection of enactments of the Dominion of Canada, and of the Province of Canada which were not within the legislative authority of the Legislature of Ontario, was presented with the second report; but the completion of this portion of the work of the Commission was afterwards abandoned, in view of the preliminary steps which had been taken by the Dominion Government for a Consolidation of Statutes that would include the Acts of which the Ontario collection would have been composed.

The enactments of the Session of 1877, were, pursuant to the Ontario Act, 40 V. c. 6, incorporated in the Draft Consolidation above mentioned, by a commission appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, composed of the following members: Hon. Chief Justice Draper, Hon. Mr. Justice Strong, Hon. Mr. Justice Burton, Hon. Mr Justice Patterson, Hon. Mr. Justice Moss, Hon. Vice-Chancellor Blake, His Honour Judge Gowan, Hon. Attorney-General Mowat, and Thomas Langton, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The completion of their work was reported by the Commissioners on the 20th November, 1877, to the Lieutenant-Governor, and the Revision being approved of by him, a proclamation was, on the 7th December, 1877, issued, declaring the Revised Statutes to be in force on, from, and after the 31st December, 1877.

7. "The Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1887," were prepared by a Commission, appointed the 11th day of December, 1885, composed in the first instance, of the Hon. George William Burton, the Hon. Christopher Salmon Patterson and the Hon. Featherston Osler, Justices of the Court of Appeal; the Hon. John Alexander Boyd, Chancellor of Ontario, the Hon. John Edward Rose and the Hon John O'Connor, Justices of the High Court of Justice; His Honour Joseph Easton McDougall, Judge of the County Court of the County of York; the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Attorney-General of Ontario; the Hon. Arthur Sturgis Hardy, Provincial Secretary; John Galloway Scott, Esq., Master of Titles, and John Robison Cartwright and Frank John Joseph, Esquires, Barristers-at-Law. By a subsequent Commission, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1885, the Hon, Alexander Morris, Ex-Chief Justice of the Provice of Manitoba, was added to the Commission. The Commissioners were appointed for consolidating the Public Statutes of the Province of Ontario, and were directed from time to time as they, or any three of them, might think proper, to report to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, their proceedings and the progress of the work entrusted to them, and in all things, not in the Commission contained, to be guided by the instructions received from time to time from His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor. The Commissioners made their first report in the month of March, 1887, accompanied with a draft of the Consolidated Statutes, and indicated the manner in which the work had been prepared. The enactments of the session of 1887 were pursuant to the Ontario Statute 50 Vict., c. 2, subsequently incorporated in this Draft Consolidation by the Commissioners.

The completion of the work was reported by the Commissioners to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and the consolidation being approved of by him a proclamation was, on the twentieth day of December, 1887, issued, declaring "The Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1887," to be in force on and after the 31st day of December, 1887.

8. "The Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897," were prepared by a Commission appointed the 25th day of April, 1968, composed in the first instance of the Hon. John Alexander Boyd, Chancellor of Ontario; the Hon. Featherston Osler, Justice of Appeal; the Hon. John Douglas Armour, Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench, the Hon. James Maclennan, Justice of Appeal; the Hon. William Ralph Meredith, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas; the Hon. Thomas Ferguson, the Hon. John Edward Rose and the Hon. William Glenholme Falconbridge, Justices of the High Court; the members of the Executive Council of Ontario, and James Pliny Whitney, Esq., M. P. P., Byron Moffatt Britton, Esq., Q. C., and John Galloway Scott, Esq., Q. C., Master of Titles.

By a subsequent Commission bearing date the 23rd day of May, 1896, Allan Malcolm Dymond, Esq., was added to the Commission; by Commission dated the 12th day of September, 1896, Thomas Langton, Esq., Q. C., was added to the Commission, and by a Commission dated the 30th day of March, 1897, James Thompson Garrow, Esq., M. P. P., was added to the Commission.

The Commission completed their work and reported the same to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor on the 20th day of December, 1897, and the consolidation being approved of by him, a proclamation was, on the 24th day of December, 1897, issued, declaring the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, to be in force on and after the 31st day of December, 1897.
